QR CODE INITIATIVE

In early 2013, RSG-Equipment announced the development of a QR (quick response) code concept located on a piece of equipment that would directly link a smart phone/tablet to a website. The RSG-Equipment team in collaboration with U.S. Equipment Systems and the Equipment Supplier Council established the strategic direction and lead this effort. With the goals of ensuring easy access to equipment information and protecting McDonald's competitive strategies, a decision was made to create supplier-hosted websites to optimize access to key documentation by smart hand held devices. Each supplier-hosted website was developed to have a similar website design and layout.

The benefits of QR code include:

- Ensuring easy access to important documents at all hours
- Reducing the complexity of operating our restaurants
- Maximizing equipment uptime
- Helping to provide consistent, gold standard products
- Providing a training resource within arm's reach of the machine

The following information is expected to be available on all McDonald's equipment supplier information sites:

1. Operations Manual
2. PM Cards
3. Quick reference guides
4. Videos if applicable. (Certain guidelines apply)
5. Warranty information (written description of warranty as a minimum)
6. Provide corporate contact information

The QR code labels were implemented on all new production equipment as of January 1, 2014. RSG-Equipment is in process of creating a reference card for equipment that already exists in the restaurants. This card will likely be a PDF with all QR codes for existing equipment in one place. QR Codes will be on display at Worldwide Convention 2014.

Here are some instructions on how to use the QR Codes:

1. If you do not already have a QR scanner, open your phone's applications store, such as the App Store on the iPhone or the Android Market on an Android-based phone.
2. Enter the term "QR reader" into the store's search box, and choose one of the scanners that comes up as a result. Your phone might have both free and paid options, so read the features carefully to find a QR scanner that suits your needs.
3. Download and install your chosen scanner on your phone. Start the app after it finishes installing.
4. Hold the device with the camera toward the QR code. Follow any onscreen instructions if the app does not automatically scan the code. Some devices might require that you press the photo capture button or other feature to begin scanning.
5. Review any equipment specific information necessary
